Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: Page 2 line 12, an 1. open parenthesis appears on this line that is never closed.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(e) the invention was described in-

(1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effect under this subsection of a national application published under section 122(b) only if the international application designating the United States was published under Article 21(2)(a) of such treaty in the English language; or

(2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that a patent shall not be deemed filed in the United States for the purposes of this subsection based on the filing of an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a).

Claims 1 and 2 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent No. 2. 6,240,374 to Cramer et al.

With regard to independent method claim 1, Cramer et al. clearly shows defining fragments of a query molecule and database molecules according to a defined set of rules, generating shape descriptors, and using the shape descriptors to identify a database molecule with a shape similar to the query molecule (see column 74 line 42 through column 75 line 10).

With regard to independent method claim 2, Cramer et al. clearly shows fragmenting query and database molecules, generating topomeric conformations and interaction energies of query and database molecules and determining similarity by root sum square to identify a molecule in the database most similar to the query molecule (see column 73 line 50 through column 75 line 10).

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 1 and 2 rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claim 3 of U.S. Patent No. 6,240,374. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claim 3 describes fragmentation, shape descriptors, topomeric conformation, interaction energies (CoMFA fields), and a similarity comparison by root sum square to identify a molecule in a database most similar to a query molecule.
